Introduction/Philosophy of Collegial Governance

The Lassen Community College governance structure involves faculty, staff, administration, students and the community in the planning and operation of the college.

The governance structure and practices embrace the Lassen Community College values of supporting inclusiveness of individual and community viewpoints in collaborative decision-making processes; promoting mutual respect and trust through open communication and actions; and fostering integrity as the foundation for all we do. The Governing Board is the final authority for governance at Lassen Community College. The Governing Board delegates authority to the Superintendent/President who in turn solicits and receives input through the governance decision-making process.

Title 5 and Shared Governance

Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations, which implements the legislature's intent in passing AB 1725, established relationships among the constituencies within California Community colleges to "ensure faculty, staff, and students the opportunity to express their opinions at the campus level and to ensure that these opinions are given every reasonable consideration, and the right to participate effectively in district and college governance, and the right of academic senates to assume primary responsibility for making recommendations in the areas of curriculum and academic standards." The Lassen Community College District Board adopted policy 1250 to further define the relationship.

In addition, Title 5 states that colleges are to rely on the recommendations of their academic senates on the development of academic and professional matters. (Title 5, Article 2, Section 53200). Board Policy 1250 further states that the Board of Trustees will "rely primarily" on the recommendations of the Academic Senate in the areas of:

- Curriculum, including establishing prerequisites and placing courses within disciplines;
- Degree and certificate requirements;
- Grading policies;
- Educational program development;
- Standards and policies regarding student preparation and success;
- Policies for faculty professional development activities;
- Processes for program review;
- Processes for institutional planning and budget development

Board policy provides that other academic and professional matters such as:

- District and college governance structures, as related to faculty roles;
- Faculty roles and involvement in accreditation processes, including self-study and annual reports;

are to be reached through a process of "mutual agreement" by the College President and the Academic Senate.

The Governing Board will identify the method (rely primarily or mutually agree) to be utilized in consulting collegially at the time when other academic and professional matters are mutually agreed upon.

- Other academic and professional matters as are mutually agreed upon between the governing board and the Academic Senate

Approaches to Shared Governance

A college may approach shared governance in three fundamental ways:

1. Administration operates the college with advice from the college's constituents. The input of the constituents is received via a committee structure.
2. The college divides itself into areas of responsibilities, each of which is exclusively managed and controlled by certain constituencies.
3. Everyone governs the entire college.

Purpose of Shared Governance

- A. Provides the process for shared development of policies, procedures and recommendations.
- B. Provides the means through which all membership of the academic community – students, faculty, administration, classified and management – can participate effectively in the orderly growth and development of the college.
- C. Will result in the functioning of administrative advisory committees, institutional committees, academic senate committees, shared governance committees, and task forces.

Representation in Shared Governance

The governance structure provides for representation from five recognized constituencies at Lassen Community College: students, faculty, classified staff, management & confidential staff and administration. The primary responsibilities of representatives are as follows:

- Prepare for and attend meetings
- Participate in discussions
- Communicate with individual constituencies and
- Contribute to informed decision-making

Operating Principles and Guidelines

Consensus

Consensus decision-making is a process that does not involve Robert's Rules of Order or other such rules for committee work. Because of this, consensus decision-making may be unfamiliar to committee representatives. Therefore, each committee should begin the year's work with discussion of the decision-making principles and processes using consensus. Governance bodies must realize that consensus decision-making takes time and requires a commitment to open discussions.

The following describes some of the essential characteristics of successful consensus decision-making:

- Speaking Up: Everyone in the group bears the responsibility of sharing their ideas, opinions, and feelings.
- Consensus Does not Mean Unanimity: As long as all representatives of the governance body have had a chance to speak their minds, a few holdouts do not keep the group from achieving consensus. However, if only a few representatives find the decision acceptable, more dialogue is necessary.
- Silence is not consensus: It is best to ask each person to respond to the issue, if only by nodding. To prevent this from becoming a voting process, it is useful to ask a question like, “Are we all on board?” Also, the Chair might go around the group and elicit responses from every one.
- Holdouts: Holdouts bear extra responsibility for making their positions and feelings clear to the group. When holdouts have difficulty expressing their ideas, objections, or opinions in rational terms – ask them to share their thought and feelings. This leads to greater clarity about their specific objections and/or concerns. Once holdouts have shared their positions or feelings, if general consensus is not changed, they should recognize and accept the fact that the group has heard them respectfully but does not agree with their positions or their point of view. It is not appropriate for the holdouts and the rest of the group to accuse each other of not listening to their points of view when both have had adequate opportunity to present these points of view within the discussion.
- Solidarity: When consensus is used, all governance body representatives must agree to support the decisions of the group, even if they personally disagree with those decisions. This means that they must work to carry out the decisions of the governance body and speak in favor of these decisions when talking to others in the organization. Staying silent in the group, then speaking against the group’s decisions undermines the process.

Guidelines for Generating Consensus

1. Clarify the problem or question being addressed.
2. Determine the criteria for a good solution (cost, scale, scope, acceptance, etc.). Ensure that everyone agrees on the criteria.
3. Brainstorm a range of alternative solutions.
 - a. Generate a thorough list of alternatives.
 - b. Do not evaluate the alternatives as they are being generated.
 - c. Write the alternatives in a format that can be seen by everyone.
4. Take a straw poll to check for the possibility of early agreement. If there is only a little disagreement, determine the reasons for the disagreement.
5. Evaluate alternatives according to the criteria you developed. Rule out any alternatives that do not meet the criteria or are rejected by the group after reflection.

- Determine if any alternatives require further research. If so, make a plan to carry out research.
6. Make a decision. Test ways to combine or modify alternatives to meet the interests of as many people in the group as possible. Select one or more alternatives.

General Operational Rules for all Open Committees

- Open meetings mean that any individual may join and fully participate in the meetings of the Governance groups designated as having open meetings.
- A quorum, consisting of a minimum of one member from each of three of the five constituencies (administration, classified, faculty, management, and student), shall be required to conduct business for all committees except Consultation Council/Strategic Planning, which requires representatives from four of the five constituencies in order to conduct business.
- The committee for the subsequent year will be formed in the spring (approximately May) of the previous academic year. New appointees will take office on July 1.
- The chair or co-chairs, of the committee, if not designated, will be elected by the core representatives at the first meeting of the committee in the fall semester. The chair from the previous academic year will call the first meeting.
- Agendas for all open meetings must be available not later than the day prior to the meeting.
- Minutes for meetings that have them, will be distributed one day after their approval.
- Representatives of various governance groups, bear the primary responsibility for both informing their constituency of the committees' work and informing the committee of the constituency's position on matters under deliberation. It is not the committee chair or college administration's responsibility to inform constituency group of matters under deliberation by the governance structure.
- Changes to this document must be proposed to the Consultation Council and ultimately approved by the college president and president of the Academic Senate. Specifically if a committee wishes to change its charge, representation, or reporting responsibilities, this process must be followed.

Consultation Council/Strategic Planning Agenda

- The Consultation Council/Strategic Planning Agenda will identify three categories of items:
 - Governance – recommendations to be developed by the body on policy and strategic planning
 - May require protracted discussions with multiple readings, time for information to be taken back to constituent groups for discussion

 - No formal recommendation or acceptance by the body
 - Information/Communication –

- Single agenda discussion - may involve presentation of administrative decisions
- The Consultation Council/Strategic Planning Agenda will provide opportunity for planning committees to present periodic reports
