Student competency is demonstrated through the ability to make correct strategy decisions and apply the appropriate technique in a majority of common situations.

Example #3: To demonstrate improvement of fitness-related conditioning, students will complete selected fitness or conditioning assessments at the beginning and end of the course.

VII. Methods of Delivery

Check those delivery methods for which, this course has been separately approved by the Curriculum/Academic Standards Committee.

Traditional Classroom Delivery Correspondence Delivery

Hybrid Delivery

Online Delivery

1. Instructor will demonstrate methods of physical conditioning appropriate to soccer. Students will perform drills, individually and in groups, for each conditioning component, under the supervision and feedback of the instructor. Students will be shown how to monitor and evaluate their own physical condition and will learn the appropriateness and importance of each conditioning component.
2. For individual skills, the instructor will demonstrate the proper technique and then execute drills accompanying feedback to provide repetition as students gain mastery of the skill.
3. For strategy skills, the instructor will use diagrams, video tapes or walk-throughs to introduce a strategy and then conduct group drills to simulate and practice the skill strategy. Utilizing scrimmage and game situations, the instructor will evaluate each student's selection and execution of the appropriate strategy responses. Group and individual feedback will be used throughout drill, simulation, scrimmage, and game situations.
4. For rules of the game, the instructor will demonstrate situations appropriate to the application of each rule, design and conduct drills to reinforce the rules, and provide feedback to students during drills, scrimmage and game situations.
